

April 2011

Youth Orchestra of Central Jersey is a local 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that provides young, talented musicians in our region with the opportunity to participate in performances of outstanding quality. Our current enrollment is over 200 students who reside and take private music lessons in Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset Counties. Following our annual concert in Ocean City, NJ on Saturday, May 14th, our final performance of this academic year will take place on Sunday, May 22nd at Rutgers University's Nicholas Music Center.

In advance of our January concert and Masterclass with the Philadelphia Orchestra's concertmaster, David Kim, we launched a "Patrons' Page" with several donation levels, as listed below. The response was overwhelming! All contributions were acknowledged in the January program and will be listed in the May program along with new donations received by May 11, 2011 (unless you wish to give anonymously).

Your generous gift will assist us in our goal of supporting and educating our musicians. All donations are appreciated and are tax-deductible. If you have any questions, please contact Marlene Brown at brownmar@hotmail.com. We greatly appreciate your help and thank you in advance for your support.
